Something's Haunting Mason HS After Prom

Contributed By: A. Spectre

Mason, OH. Local magician and community theatre actor Brahm Corstanje will be "haunting" this year's Mason High School After Prom with his demonstrations of "Paranormal Theatre." He will be providing several back-to-back performances of a live magic show in the form of a theatrical recreation of extrasensory powers and spirit manifestations.

Corstanje is a thirty plus year veteran in the study of prestidigitation and ghost stories, and a member of international magic organizations since a teen. During this time, he has evolved his paranormal theatre presentation into a mixture of humor and genuine hair-standing-on-the-back-of-your-neck moments.

He typically provides these performances under the moniker "The Haunted One", as a fundraising tool for two local award-winning community theatre organizations: Acting Up - Young Performers Community Theatre of Mason (www.ActingUp.com) and The Lebanon Theatre Company (www.LTCplays.com). He wanted to donate performances to the Mason After Prom event, because he believes in the event's purpose and objective: to keep our high schoolers safe during the late hours of prom night.

When asked whether he actually believes in ghosts, Corstanje responded: "Absolutely...for entertainment purposes only, and only during the hours of my performances!"

Mason After Prom is an annual event for juniors and seniors, put together by parent volunteers and other volunteers from the community, to help ensure the safety and well-being of our high school teenagers -- those who go to prom as well as those who don't. It offers our young people a safe, unique, substance free entertainment experience -- it is "the party" to attend after the main prom event! This year's theme is "Lights! Camera! Action! A Night at the Movies!", and includes a variety of entertainment events for the attendees, including live performances, themed gaming rooms, giant inflatable gaming area, a mechanical bull, and lots of door prizes.

Corstanje demonstrates a spirit bell used by fraudulent mediums in the mid 1800's.
